This is a follow-up to previous meetings with BLM, the Solicitor's Office, and BLM regarding a potential precedent setting federal land management model. The Owyhee Basin Stewardship Coalition (OBSC) is comprised of ranchers and local business people in Malheur County, Oregon. Several members of the OBSC would like to discuss their proposal with appropriate DOI officials. No actions sought. The meeting is an intro to the principals of the OBSC and is intended to provide a briefing on this innovative approach to Western collaboration on public land use. This proposal would create a model approach to primarily BLM lands within Malheur Country, Oregon. It would create a mechanism for local control with the focus on health of public lands.
